THE GOOD, THE BAD, AND THE LUKEWARM

6. THE FEEBLE CHURCH

Calvin Coolidge was America's thirtieth president. He was an extremely quiet and reserved man. When questioned, he rarely answered in more than two or three words, a tendency which earned him the nickname "Silent Cal." The public saw him as a stiff and emotionless man. In 1933, the radio airwaves crackled with the news of Coolidge's death. Columnist Dorothy Parker was in her office at The New Yorker when a colleague flung open the door and blurted, "Dotty, did you hear? Coolidge is dead." Endowed with a very quick wit, she shot back, "How can they tell?"

As we stand under the hot glare of our Lord's letter to Sardis we have to look honestly within and ask ourselves, "Can anyone tell if we are alive or dead? Am I truly alive, or do I just have a reputation, a name for being alive?" When the Lord wrote to the church at Smyrna, He did not have one bad thing to say about them. Yet, when He wrote to the church at Sardis, He did not have one good thing to say about them.

If you or I had been evaluating these seven churches, Sardis would probably have been the one with which we were most impressed. This is the church we probably would have wanted to join. The church at Sardis reminds us that the things that so often impress us about churches, least impress the Lord. We are often more captivated by externals when the Lord is more concerned with internals. We would have said that the church at Sardis was alive, but Christ it was dead. Is this not the case with many churches? They are congregations of corpses. They sing, "Embalmed in Gilead." At the Rapture, they will be the first churches taken for the Bible says, "the dead in Christ shall rise first." Did you hear about the little boy who walked out of the church building one Sunday? Out in the porch was an engraved plaque listing all the members of the church who had died in the war. The little boy asked his father, "Daddy what's that?" His Daddy replied, "That's for the members who died in the service." To which the little boy asked, "Which service did they die in Daddy? The morning or the evening service?" Have you ever attended a church like that?

The sermon was dead. The worship was dead. The fellowship was dead. Worse still, maybe you attend a church like that now. Even worse perhaps your own spiritual life is like that. Dead, dormant and dull. You once were excited about your faith in Christ, but now your heart is lifeless. You once lived on the cutting edge, but now you've gone over the edge. The fact is you're dead. Not unconverted. Saved, but uncommitted, undisciplined, unfaithful. "A do not disturb," sign hangs around your neck. No one else can see it, but God can. You used to study the Word of God daily, your fellowship with God was vital. But no longer. This was the church at Sardis. A church with a great reputation. But now? There is no life. No dynamic. No pulse. No heartbeat. Its spiritual history like is civil history belonged to the past. You see,

1. Historically Sardis was Important:

It had once been one of the greatest cities of the ancient world. As the capital of the ancient kingdom of Lydia, it had been one of the wealthiest cities of the world.

2. Geographically Sardis was Impregnable:

It was located on an almost inaccessible plateau. The acropolis of Sardis was some 1,500 feet above the valley floor. As such, the city was thought to be an impregnable fortress against military assault. This security bred a smug self-sufficiency.

3. Commercially Sardis was Industrious:

The city lay about 50 miles east of Ephesus, at the junction of five roads, making it a centre for trade. The city was known for its manufacture of woollen garments and the main religion in the city was the worship of Artemis, one of the nature cults that was founded on the belief of death and rebirth.

4. Morally Sardis was Indecent:

It was a name of contempt. Its people were loose-living and luxury loving. It was a city of decadence. This city had a name that it was living but it was dead. Now the church in Sardis had become like the city. Proud. Smug. Self-sufficient. Alive in name only. What a warning to all great churches that are living on past glory.

Dr. V. Havner. reminds us that spiritual ministries often go through four stages. "A Man, A Movement, A Machine, and A Monument." Sardis was at the monument stage but still there was hope.

(1) A Reputation that was Acquired by this Church

"Thou hast a Name that thou livest." (3:1) Or as another translation renders it, "You have a reputation of being alive." This church had acquired a name, its reputation had spread far and wide. It was known by the other six churches in Asia Minor for its vitality. No false doctrine was taking root in this church. We don't hear of Balaam, or the Nicolaitanes or Jezebel in this church. This church had built up quite an impressive reputation. This was the place to be. It was highly revered and respected. "What a live church you have in Sardis," visitors would exclaim with admiration when they attended its services or watched its activities. No doubt they prided themselves on their illustrious past. But that was the problem. They lived in the past. In the present they had only an empty, lifeless profession. Reputations are a funny thing. Someone has said, that when we turn 20, we worry about what people think about us. When we turn 40, we stop worrying about what others think about us. When we turn, 60 we realise that no-one has been thinking about us at all. Now this was the problem with the Sardis church. They so prided their reputation built up in the past that they lost all spiritual power in the present. They had built quite an impressive reputation. Think of what they had. They had,

(a) PRESTIGE BUT LITTLE POWER:

"Thou hast a name that thou livest, and are dead." (3:1) What does it mean, "Thou art dead?" It doesn't mean that they were spiritually lost. The Bible says that those without Christ are dead in trespasses and sins.

(Eph 2:1) But this death at Sardis means that the spiritual vitality of the members was nonexistent. This church was outwardly active. They had all the signs of dynamic ministry. But their inward condition was dead. They were living off yesterday's spiritual momentum. A cold, formal rigidity had set in. This was a church that had reputation without reality. It had form without force. It had function without unction. No doubt society had written " great," over its door, the surrounding churches had written " super," over its door, but God had written " Ichabod," over its door. The church had become like the city in which she resided. At one time Sardis was a city of splendour now she was a city of decay. At one time this church was alive but now she was dead. Well, what does a dead church look like ? Well, there is.

(1) Dead Preaching:

In the pulpit, a mild-mannered man speaks to mild-mannered people, encouraging them to be more mild-mannered.

(2) Dead Worship:

It's like walking into a wax museum. There's no excitement. No buzz. They worship as if the Lord Jesus was still dead and buried in the grave. They begin at 11.00am Sharp and get out at 12.00 Dull. There are no " Amen's," or " Hallelujahs,"

(3) Dead Ministry:

There is no evangelism. No missions outreach. No church growth. Cobwebs are spun in the baptistery.

(4) Dead Hope:

All they do is live in the past. At the bottom of the church stationery, they proudly display their church motto, " We've never done it that way before. " They worship at the shrine of their tradition. They live in the good old days. They don't have revivals they have reunions. My is this church like Sardis ? Have we just got a name ? A reputation for our standards, our stand, our separation ? But is that all we've got ? Are we living on past glory ? Do you remember how it used to be in Windsor Avenue ? Have we outward appearance but no inward reality ? Are we doctrinally sound but inwardly dead ? Clovis Chappell tells the story of a preacher that was given to doing eccentric things. The preacher had become discouraged with his church and finally told his congregation that the church was dead. He announced that he was going to preach at its funeral that night. He had a coffin placed at the front. Standing beside the coffin at the end of the service he said,

" Now some of you may not agree with me that this church is dead. In order to convince you I am going to ask you to view its remains. " He placed a mirror in the bottom of the coffin and when the people passed by they saw the dead. One preacher wrote,

Tell my deacons when I am dead
That they should shed no tears
For I shall be no deader then

Than they have been for years

Present deacons accepted of course. But you see, it's not what a church does but rather what a church is that determines whether or not it's alive. It's not a church's recreation, or a church's reputation, but a church's relation to the Lord Jesus that determines whether or not it's alive. My is your spiritual life like this church? Are you dry, dormant, and dead? Perhaps once you had a close walk with the Lord and everyone looked up to you as a dynamic Christian? But no longer. Is your ministry dead? Is your personal evangelism dead? Are your personal devotions dead?

(b) PROGRAMS BUT LITTLE PROGRESS:

Christ says, "For I have not found thy works perfect before God." (3:2) The word "perfect," means "complete." It would seem that in Sardis they were starters but not finishers. They were many doing many things but completing none. Dwight L. Moody used to remark, "I would rather say, this one thing I do, than say these forty things I dabble with." The church at Sardis was dabbling instead of doing. The Risen Lord could say, "I have not found thy works perfect before God." Their works measured up to man's standards but not to God's. Before God this church was the opposite of what she was before man. Men looked upon her works with delight, God looked upon her works with disgust. My are you more concerned with your reputation before men or your real state before God?

(c) PROMISCUITY BUT LITTLE PURITY:

The Risen Lord said, "Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments." (3:4) There is a faithful remnant here. This core group had abstained from moral impurity. But the majority in Sardis were defiled. J. Allen tells us that the patron deity of the city was Cybele, (Artemis) and orgies embracing the most debased of sexual sins were celebrated in her honour. Tragically this had permeated into the life of the fellowship and was detected by the Risen Lord. But while the vast majority in the church had been defiled there was a core group that had abstained from moral impurity. My God's unchanging standard is "Be ye holy for I am holy," (1 Pet 1:16) And this holiness of life relates to our talk, our walk, our dress. Ladies, do you realise that God's Word speaks of "modest apparel?" (1 Tim 2:9) A woman is to arrange herself appropriately for the worship service which includes wearing decent clothing which reflects a pure heart. Men, does our deportment reflect something of the holiness of God? Evidently, there was a majority and a minority group within this church at Sardis. In which group do you find yourself this? Are you in the larger group that is dead, or the smaller group who are devoted? My are you part of your church's problem or part of the solution? Are you a pillar in the church or a caterpillar that just crawls in and out? (1)

(2) A Reformation that was Required in this Church

The problem with the church at Sardis was that she was dead but all was not lost for the Lord saw the glow of embers among the ashes and exhorted the believers especially I believe this godly remnant (3:4) to fan the flame. Here is a reformation that is,

(a) SOUGHT IN THE SAINTS OF GOD:

What did the Risen Lord say to this church of zombies ?

(1) BE WATCHFUL:

“ Be watchful,” or “ Wake up.” (3:2) In the Greek these words are sharp, staccato commands. They are like a slap in the face, a splash of cold water, a sniff of ammonia. Christ is saying, “ Come of your spiritual hibernation. Arouse yourself.” This almost impregnable city had twice fallen to surprise attacks. The first time to Cyrus (549 BC) the second time to Antiochus (218 BC) What had happened in the city happened in the church for is it not remarkable that Asia Minor (Turkey) was once the brightest spot for Gospel witness, but today its one of the darkest. The lamp-stand has been removed. Do you need to wake up ? To honestly face your dullness ? To admit to the Lord that something is missing ?

(2) BE USEFUL:

“ Strengthen the things which remain that are ready to die.” (3:2) This refers to the basics of the spiritual life, Bible study, prayer, worship and fellowship. Christ is saying, “ Get back into the Word. Get back into prayer. Get back into fellowship. Get back to the basics.” Now the word “ strengthen,” here was often used in the early church for the nurture of believers. (Acts 18:23) New Christians are weak they need to be strengthened, babies need to be nurtured, the unstable need to be established. Do you mature believers see this as your responsibility ? Do you ever put your arms around some of the lambs and encourage them in the things of God ?

(3) BE MINDFUL:

“ Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard.” (3:3) What had they received and heard at the beginning ? The gospel. They had received the basic truths of the Christian life. This is not a call to live in the past, but a command to remember their rich spiritual heritage in Christ. Christ is saying here, “ Remember how you were saved. Remember how you were nothing before God found you. Remember how God’s grace reached down and redeemed you.” We so easily forget don’t we ? This is why Christ’s last act before He went to Calvary was to institute a Feast of remembrance to draw us back to Himself again and again during our time on earth.

(4) BE HEEDFUL:

“ Hold fast and repent.” (3:3) Or “ Remember the Word you received and obey it.” Here is Christ’s appeal to obey Gods Word, to keep His commandments, in every area of their lives. Disobedience and spiritual dryness are twin sisters. Wherever you find one, you will be sure to find the other. Christ is saying, “ Weave Gods truth through every area of your life. Keep the Word. Put it into practice.” A husband and wife were discussing the possibility of taking a trip to the Holy Land. “ Wouldn't it be fantastic to go the Holy land,” he said, “ and stand and shout the Ten Commandments from Mount Sinai ?” “ It would be better,” his wife pointedly said, “ if we stayed at home and kept them.” “ Hold fast and repent.” It means to let go of our sins. Obedience and Repentance. Reformation is (a)

(b) WROUGHT BY THE SPIRIT OF GOD:

Do you see how the Risen Lord presents Himself to this church ? “ These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God.” (3:1) Who or what are the seven Spirits of God ? The first occurrence of this phrase is found in (1:4-5) There “ the seven Spirit's,” are linked with the eternal Father and with Jesus Christ as the single source of both grace and peace. (4:5 5:6) My the “ the seven Spirit's,” are the Holy Spirit. Now John is not saying that there are seven Holy Spirits, but that there is one perfect Holy Spirit. And when the Spirit comes He comes in full and perfect power. Now the Holy Spirit is the Spirit of Life. (Rom 8:2 Is 11:3) What did the church at Sardis need ? Life. It's the Spirit of God that can breathe life, into our formal worship and make it living. It's the Spirit of God who can animate our “ dead works,” and make them pulsate with life. It's “ Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts.” (Zech 4:6) But the Christ who “ hath the seven Spirits of God,” has also “ the seven stars.” (3:1)

Now who are the stars ? “ The seven stars are the angels (messengers) of the seven churches.” (1:20)

“ The seven stars,” are in His right hand. (1:16 2:1) Are “ the seven Spirits of God,” in His left ? If only He would bring His hands together. If only the Holy Spirit would fill and control the messengers specifically and the believers continually. My is there a more urgent message for us today than this message ? “ Be filled with the Spirit.” (Eph 5:18) The Holy Spirit indwells you, but does He fill you ? You have all of Him, but does He have all of you ? Are you constantly moment by moment be being filled with the Spirit ? Now the word Sardis means “ a remnant,” or “ those who have escaped.” Prophetically it brings us to the period, (1517-1700) It brings before us the great state churches of the Reformation who escaped from Rome only to fall eventually into cold, lifeless, formalism. J. Vernon McGee writes,

This is a picture of Protestantism. The great truths which were recovered in the Reformation have been surrendered by a compromising church. Although the great denominations and churches still repeat by rote the creeds of the church, in mind, heart, and life they have repudiated them. Imposing programs, elaborate rituals, and multiplication of organizations have been substituted for the Word of God and real spiritual life. There is activity but no actions, motion without movement, promotion without progress, program without power. Although the outward form remains the living creature has vacated the shell.

Thank God, in this period of church history God raised up His men. Martin Luther (1483-1546) Zwingli (1484-1531) Luther's co-worker. Then there was John Calvin (1509-1564) one of the greatest theologians of the Christian faith. Then there was John Knox (1515-1572) who swept popery out of Scotland. Oh, that God would raise up His men again for once more there are things “ that are ready to die,” (3:2) But lets get back to Sardis. (1 (2)

(3) A Recognition that was Desired for this Church

For the Risen Lord says, (3:5) Think of it. To be taken by the hand by the Lord Jesus, to be led up past the marshalled ranks of angels, up along the golden avenues of glory, up past the cherubim and seraphim, up, up to the throne of God Himself and to hear the Lord Jesus call you by your name and present you in person as His well beloved. Then to hear the Father say, “ Bring the best robe and put it on Him.” That’s Recognition. But this recognition is only possible,

(a) IF FELLOWSHIP IS REAL:

Who will clothed in white raiment ? The over-comer. Who will walk with Christ in white ? Those who have not defiled their garments. Those who do not disgrace the garments of Grace will don the garments of Glory. (Jude 23) What about you ? Are you keeping yourself unspotted from the world ? (Jam 1:27)

(b) IF CITIZENSHIP IS REAL:

“ And I will not blot his name out of the book of life.” (3:5) Does this mean that it is possible to have your name blotted out of the book of life ? Does this mean that a Christian can lose his salvation ?

Unquestionably, the Bible teaches the eternal security of the believer. Once saved, always saved. So what is Christ promising here ? Well, in John's day a King kept an official register that contained all the names of its citizens. A name would be removed if one committed a crime against the state. Or a name would be blotted out if a citizen moved, or if he died. The book contained the names of all true citizens who had not rebelled against the King. Conversely, the Lord Jesus will never blot our names out of His book. Indeed the passage should actually be rendered, “ I will never, never ever under any circumstances blot out your name from the Book of Life.” My do you realise that you are eternally secure ? We were chosen in Christ before the beginning of time and what is predestined before time is settled for all time. There will be recognition if (a) (b)

(c) IF DISCIPLESHIP IS REAL:

“ But I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels.” (3:5) This is what Christ said during His earthly ministry. “ Whosoever shall confess me before men him will I confess also before My Father which is in heaven.” (Matt 10:32 Lk 12:38) What an honour to hear the Saviour say, “ Father He confessed Me, in a godless culture, I confess him before Thee.” So this letter ends. There’s no indication that this church as a whole would hear this call but there is always a remnant. Will you be numbered among that faithful remnant ? Will you heed what the Spirit is saying to this church, to our lives ? He is saying it’s not reputation we need its reality. The Lord can see how much reality is behind our profession, and how much life is behind our façade. A man once came to Gypsy Smith, the well known English evangelist and asked him how to have Revival. Gypsy asked, “Do you have a place where you can pray?” “Yes,” was the reply. “I’ll tell you what you must do,” said the evangelist. “You go to that place and take a piece of chalk along. Kneel down there and with the chalk draw a complete circle all around you. Then pray for God to send revival on everyone inside of the circle. Stay there until He answers and you will have revival.”
